Home Contents Inventory

Your homeowner insurance typically provides coverage for the contents of your home, up to the limit you selected on your insurance policy. In the event that you have a claim, you will be asked by the insurance adjuster to provide a list of the items that were damaged or stolen, including an estimated value and the age of the item.

If just an item or two are damaged, the task is not so difficult. But what if you have a large loss? Would you be able to inventory all your items, their purchase date, and their approximate value? Now the task is daunting.

Having an inventory of your belongings can make the claims settlement process easier and faster, allowing you to substantiate the items damaged and receive your claims payout quickly.

ARCW Insurance is in the business of providing peace of mind to our clients. We have created this Home Contents Inventory to help you keep track of what you own so that if you have to file a claim, the information you need will be at the ready.

HOW TO USE THE INVENTORY:

- Inventorying your entire home can be daunting. But it doesn't have to be all at once. Take it a room at a time.
- Be detailed in your description, and include serial numbers if you can
- Supplement the inventory by taking photos or videos of your rooms and items
- If you have them, scan and store receipts for purchases
- Store the inventory electronically, preferably "in the cloud" like Google Drive or iCloud, or email the inventory to yourself for storage
- Keep the list updated as you acquire new items, or endeavor to do it annually
- Pay special attention to jewelry, art, collectibles, antiques and anything else with very high value or intrinsic value. These items may need to be separately scheduled and insured to be properly protected.

With just a bit of work, you can have a fully itemized inventory of your belongings. And, as a bonus, it'll help you know the total value of your contents, and verify that against the coverage limit on your policy. If you need help or have insurance questions, do not hesitate to contact us.
